Heidi Hartmann, Ph.D.
President, Institute for Women’s Policy Research
Research Professor of Women’s Studies and Public Policy, The George Washington University
Co-Editor, Journal of Women, Politics & Policy
Race and Gender Differences are Still Very Significant. White and Asian American Men Earn the Most. Hispanic Women Earn the Least.

Median Annual Earnings of Men and Women Employed Full-Time, Year-Round by Race/Ethnicity, 2008

Source: IWPR extracted from US Census Bureau 2009
Women are More Likely to Be Poor – At Every Age

Poverty Rates by Age and Gender, 2008