

Elders Who Can't Make Ends Meet in Placer County As Measured by the California Elder Economic Security Standard™ Index

The California Elder Economic Security Standard™ Index (Elder Index) measures how much income is needed for a retired adult age 65 and older to adequately meet his or her basic needs including housing, food, out-of-pocket medical expenses, transportation, and other necessary spending. For an elderly renter living alone in Placer County, the Elder Index is approximately $23,000/year.

Not Just "Poor" Elders Who Are Struggling in Placer County

- 36% of all elders age 65+ do not have enough income to meet their most basic needs, as measured by the Elder Index. That's 16,000 elders struggling to make ends meet in Placer County.
- In contrast, according to the Federal Poverty Line (FPL), only 3% (1,000) Placer County elders are considered "poor," with annual individual incomes below $10, 210.
- But a large number of other elders (15,000 or 33%) fall into the "eligibility gap," with incomes above the FPL but below the Elder Index. These elders don't have enough money to cover their most basic needs, but have too much to qualify for many public programs.

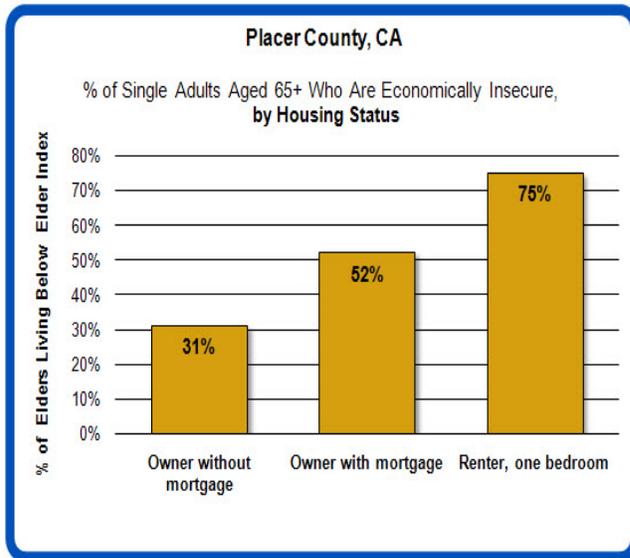

Women Living Alone Are Economically Vulnerable

- Historically, women have earned less than men. Today they still earn, nationally, an average of 78 cents for every dollar a man earns. It's no wonder that women are particularly vulnerable.
- Without a partner to share expenses, and in the face of increasing costs and fixed incomes, more than half of elder women living alone in Placer County cannot make ends meet.

Number of men living alone below the Elder Index is less than 1,000, and therefore too small to calculate a reliable estimate.

Renters Living Alone Are the Most Economically Vulnerable

- Three-fourths of elder renters living alone in Placer County are trying to survive on incomes below the Elder Index.
- More than half of elders living alone who own their home, but are still paying off a mortgage, are unable to meet their basic needs.
- Elders who own their homes outright are doing somewhat better, but are still struggling. Almost one-third cannot make ends meet.
