

Elders Who Can't Make Ends Meet in San Mateo County As Measured by the California Elder Economic Security Standard™ Index

The California Elder Economic Security Standard™ Index (Elder Index) measures how much income is needed for a retired adult age 65 and older to adequately meet his or her basic needs including housing, food, out-of-pocket medical expenses, transportation, and other necessary spending. For an elderly renter living alone in San Mateo County, the Elder Index is approximately $29,000/year.

Not Just "Poor" Elders who are Struggling in San Mateo County

- 43% of all elders age 65+ do not have enough income to meet their most basic needs, as measured by the Elder Index. That's over 38,000 elders struggling to make ends meet in San Mateo County.
- In contrast, according to the Federal Poverty Line (FPL), only 7% (6,000) of San Mateo County elders are considered "poor," with annual individual incomes below $10,210.
- But a large number of other elders (31,000 or 36%) fall into the "eligibility gap," with incomes above the FPL but below the Elder Index. These elders don't have enough money to cover their most basic needs, but have too much to qualify for many public programs.

Women Living Alone More Economically Vulnerable

- Historically, women have earned less than men. Today they still earn, nationally, an average of 78 cents for every dollar a man earns. It's no wonder that women living alone are particularly vulnerable.
- Without a partner to share the expenses, and in the face of increasing costs and fixed incomes, nearly half of the elder women living alone in San Mateo County are struggling to make ends meet.

Renters Living Alone Are the Most Economically Vulnerable

- Over half of elder renters living alone in San Mateo County are trying to survive on incomes below the Elder Index.
- 4 out of 10 elders living alone who own their home, but are still paying off a mortgage, are unable to meet their basic needs.
- Elders who own their homes outright are doing somewhat better, but still struggling. Almost 1 in 3 cannot make ends meet.
